Golden Anniversary Celebration Recap

On Saturday May 6, we transformed the Adcock Center for a Celebration of our 50th year as a Branch. We achieved creativity – in food, presentations, and dramatic flair. A total of 107 members and guests enjoyed a festive evening.

In January, the Party Committee asked ourselves the question: What type of event do we want? The answer: "Let's highlight history, create a gala celebration, with limited formal presentations that is different from our regular events. Let's make it eye-popping with a sense of jubilation." To my mind, we exceeded beyond expectations. In thanking our members who worked long and hard, I am fearful of missing someone, but here goes:

Mary Sheridan – multiple jobs and my right-hand woman

Jan Grierson – multiple jobs and my partner in crime

Carol Mickelsen – appetizers

Vivian Costello - desserts

Nina Nelson – decorations, tableware, drinks, transforming the Adcock

Peggy Rozhon – dramaturge and AV guru

Julie Gerth – dramaturge and acquiring special assistants

Jean Slanger – performing as historian in the skit

Carol Forster – managing all the food

Betty Lee-Kendall – food and decorations

Delores Crabb, Sue Hatfield, Mardee Schweikert – posters

Erika Pardo, Mary Sheridan, Mary Alice Pearce – presentations

Maura Jones - slideshow

And appreciation to Ruth Rafello for the original idea to have a party!

Membership Matters

Another great year of growing with new members! Thanks for encouraging your friends to join with us. And don't forget to invite them to this Saturday's Scholarship Luncheon. Let's welcome two new members, Gwen Halterman and Diane Brosin. Diane will be at the luncheon, so be sure to search her out and give her a welcome. And our thoughts and prayers go out to the family and friends of longtime member, Tish Williams, who recently passed away.

Come Meet Our 2017 Tech Trekkers

We hope you can attend our upcoming scholarship brunch to celebrate our 20th year of sending middle-school girls to AAUW math and science camp, and to meet our five 2017 Tech Trekkers from the Coastside: Natalie Curthoys, Carmen Ramirez, Mara Ritters, Mikaela Sendino, and Celeste Zapata.

Thank you to all of our generous donors. Your support is needed more than ever, as the cost has gone up this year to $1,000 per girl, which includes room and board for the action-packed week of STEM workshops and fieldtrips.

STEM Camp

We will be holding our STEM Camp for 7th and 8th grade girls at Half Moon Bay High School from Tuesday July 18 through Friday July 21 from 9 am to 3 pm.

We will need help on Thursday at Frances Beach from 9 to 11:30 am walking around with Ranger Nell and also people who can transport the girls back to the high school at 11:30.

We will be walking the girls to Oddyssey on Main Street probably on the afternoon of Wednesday, July 19, at about 12:30 pm. We need people who can walk with them (they will be dismissed from there at 3 pm).

We need members who have worked (or are working) in a STEM profession to be part of a panel on Friday from 12:30 to 2:30 pm.

There will be a signup sheet at the June 10th luncheon or contact me at cvu59@aol.com if you can help.

This is the last year we will be funded through the Edna Cox Funds. We usually spend between $600 and $700 for the four days. We hope that when you are making your donations to our AAUW branch, you will consider donating to our STEM Camp.

Thanks!

Mary Vargas, STEM Camp Coordinator

Local Scholarship

Be sure to attend the June 10th Scholarship luncheon. Four outstanding students will receive the AAUW-HMB Local Scholarships. The committee remains anonymous, but the dedication and collaborative work of the team is amazing. 2017 marks the last of the Edna Cox Scholarships. We thank Edna for her foresight in making it possible for so many fine female graduates of HMB and Pescadero High Schools to be supported as they pursue higher education.

Hopefully our branch fundraising will continue to earn enough in the upcoming year to establish another scholarship in honor of our founding member. Thanks to Carol Joyce's efforts with Coastside Gives and Nina's theatrical extravaganza we are already putting aside funds for 2018. And, let's not forget, our fabulous White Elephant Sale. Thank you, Peggy and Mary. Hurray, hurray, for all the planners, donors, and volunteers! Oh, yes, and our private donors! You make it possible for our branch to provide scholarships each and every year! Thank you, one and all!

Half Moon Bay Chamber of Commerce Education Committee

The principals, Jarrett Dooley of Cunha Middle School and John Nazar of HMBHS, reported that AVID, Advancement via Individual Determination program, will be offered 6th through 12th grades.

Many educational opportunities are available on the Coastside. Our library provides a full calendar of offering programs for babes through seniors. Rotary and Chamber continue to provide business and life skill training to our local high schools. Education is a priority on the Coastside. AAUW is proud to participate on this powerful committee.

Sue Hatfield, AAUW Representative

Public Policy

Besides lobbying in Washington DC on issues that affect women and girls, AAUW is also very active on the state level. Some of the recent issued being worked on at the states' level are:

- 1. Nevada is the first state in 40 years to ratify the ERA!
- 2. Vouchers take money away from public schools and give it to private and religious schools. AAUW has been working hard on the national and state levels against this issue. Arizona recently passed a law creating a voucher program and Texas has been considering it.
- 3. Equal pay legislation: Philadelphia, New York City and Puerto Rico have passed Equal Pay Acts; Colorado, Oregon and Nevada are working on it (Gov. Brown signed it into law last year for California).
- 4. Reproductive rights. Arizona, Arkansas, Kentucky Utah and Wyoming have passed restrictions. The American Health Care Act (which recently passed in the House) threatens to affect women's ability to control their own reproduction rights.
- 5. Sexual assault. April was "Sexual Assault" month. Maryland, Pennsylvania and Georgia have passed "NO MEANS NO" acts.
- 6. Tuition-free public college programs: New York is the first to pass a law helping middle-class families making less than $125,000 a year. Women especially struggle to pay back college loans as they typically earn less than men.
- 7. Elections: It is important that we participate in local and state elections and that we continue to be active in the "Get Out the Vote" as we have been in national elections.
- 8. Paid leave for health reasons, family members and parental leave (for both new mothers and fathers) has 2/3 of AAUW members responding that this is an important issue for AAUW to address. It has passed in Maryland and Georgia; Columbus, Ohio, and Minnesota are both blocking it.
- 9. American Health Care Act (which passed in the House and is making its way to the Senate) is opposed by AAUW.

All of the above reports are from AAUW National and/or State. They are not your Public Policy Co-Chairs' private opinions. AAUW is a nonpartisan organization for candidates, but actively lobbies at both the national and state levels on issues they see as important for women and girls.

The latest research report "Deeper in Debt" will be released at the end of May. It deals with the huge debt young women are facing as they graduate from college, and since they usually make less that men in their same positions, it takes them much longer to pay off their college loans.

Coastside Gives

Our first Coastside Gives fundraiser was a success. We have a preliminary number of $5,500, which will be adjusted downward to reflect the fees for processing the credit card transactions. The preliminary number includes donations and prizes.

Many thanks to the Board for their support, Sue Hatfield for discovering this fundraising opportunity, Erika Pardo and her team who helped us win the $1,000 Power Hour prize, and Julie Gerth for reaching out to Tech Trek attendees and their families. I appreciate the support of the members who helped us qualify for prizes every hour and everyone who donated and asked family and friends to donate to support our mission to empower women and girls.

I am looking forward to putting the lessons we learned this year into action next year to raise even more to support our local and national projects.
